Stephan Sondermann new Director of Sales of the Kempinski Hotel Bristol Berlin

Berlin, 15. April 2008 – From 1. Mai 2008 onwards, Stephan Sondermann will be the new Director of Sales at the Kempinski Hotel Bristol in Berlin. With his team of nine colleagues, he will be in charge of the marketing and sales department of the traditional, 301-room hotel on Berlin's famous Kurfürstendamm.

Stephan Sondermann, born in the Sauerland, Germany, has been at the Kempinski Hotel Bristol Berlin since 2007 as Assistant Director of Sales. He has extensive sales and marketing experience in the luxury hotel business – before his move to the Spree he was, as Director of Group & Convention Sales, in charge of the event business of the Hotel Grand Elysee in Hamburg. Stephan was able to acquire extensive knowledge of the Berlin market in his various posts at hotels in the capital. These included, for example, Director of Convention Sales in the Steigenberger Hotel Berlin as well as several banquet sales roles in the Mövenpick Hotel and the Hotel Palace Berlin. Previous positions in Düsseldorf, Baden-Baden and Dortmund complete his well-founded expertise, particularly in MICE (Meeting, Incentive, Congress & Exhibitions).

In his new role, Stephan Sondermann reports directly to Holger König, Hotel Manager of the Kempinski Hotel Bristol Berlin.
